Dear Robert,

It's a true privilege and pleasure to write this testimony of my Leadership for the Strategic Future participation and resulting breakthrough. I now live each day as a leader with freedom to be, giving me access to infinite possibilities.

Day one of this breakthrough started by our mutual commitment to achieve clear goals that I had set. These goals were actually patterns and ways of being I wanted to break for many years. Although performing at high levels, the toll on me was limiting and could only be sustained at the cost of recurring fatigue. This journey was far beyond gaining efficiency or adopting a new mindset, which I had done before with various coaching and leadership sessions with incremental benefits. This journey was about looking "inside" authentically to realize my being and its roots, thereafter I was fully empowered to start many insightful breakthrough conversations.

I am today in a different space, seeing and listening much more freely than ever before. My leadership has more impact and most importantly, I am now empowered to freely be and act as a leader. The greatest part of this transformation is that there is no going back, and I really mean impossible to go back. The closest picture I can describe to explain how I lived this transformation is to compare it to the first movie "Matrix", once you have changed you cannot return to your previous world view, everyday is now lived with multiple perspectives and even at a different speed!

As I now engage in developing "being a leader" with a beginner's mind and the eyes to see mastery, I am deeply thankful for the conversation that you initiated Robert, and am extremely enthusiastic about future
