Dear Robert,

Just a quick thank you note to you and the team at Legacy Transformational Consulting. This last year was a revelation for me. I personally needed a breakthrough "next step" for my leadership and career. You delivered.

I enjoyed the introspection work we have done together. These sessions were not always easy but revealed so much. Interestingly enough, even though it seemed complex at the start, as time went by, the concepts became progressively simpler and simpler.

During the course of this Transformation, I was able to put in practice some of the concepts learned and I was impressed by how much we can influence and also help in the transformation of others. Most importantly, it can be done quickly.

The Mission Control Productivity Workshop was a good way to introduce my team and me to new tools to improve our personal performance and to develop the base for a common language. Almost a year after the workshop, the concepts and tools are still in used. We are far from mastery but the practice continues and did not get lost after a few weeks/months of utilization.

Again, thank you Robert for your coaching and for helping me get closer to the next level. You have helped me change my perspective on life by adding Freedom to it.

Regards,
